oh man i was only able to play this for literally 45 seconds because i am scared of water and this is so realistic. awesome work by the devs. great title at that price.. Mechanics and graphics are just gorgeous. You've never seen this kind of underwater locomotion in VR for sure. Give it a try, you won't regret.

<https://imgur.com/VaVIAhLgvx>. Really enjoyed this. Great graphics, especially underwater and the swim mechanic while not flawless, works pretty well. I played it on a Samsung Odyssey+ despite not being supported and it worked fine. You'll just see Vive Wands instead of the WMR controllers. All in All a great experience.

It is super short though, like an hour or something but it has good voice acting and is a cool experience. Overall, I recommend it for the price.. What a great vr experience. Visuals are stunning. Took just under an hour for me to finish and I am wanting more, so much more. Please oh please release more content soon!. Why do developers insist on highlighting every thing you need to interact with, it's nothing but hand holding.

Oh look, there's a handle you need to pull, there's a door panel you need to swipe with key, there's an axe you need, lets make that nice and easy for you and highlight the thing with a nice glowing texture. It's ridiculous. It's not puzzles, it telling you what to do! Enough of that please, stop appealing to the people who can't work things out. Are people so stupid these days that they need to be told what to interact with.

The other thing I didn't like was when it cuts to 3rd person view sometimes, if im the character then leave me in 1st person view, it's breaks immersion.

It's not a puzzler, It's not very long at about 50 minutes.

The graphics were just ok, one review said gorgeous, well they're hardly gorgeous but passable. Textures, particularly in the caves could have been better, although swimming through the cave was quite immersive even if the textures looked yucky.

Despite that, the immersion of being on a sunken ship was ok. It's got more polish than a lot of vr games.

I wouldn't say it's fantastic like some skills and "yes men" would say, it's just ok and worth a try for something a little different. Absolutely loving this game - it's genuinely brilliant.

Devs - I think there's a glitch with the settings menu. I'm playing on a Rift with a 1080 and have set all graphics options to their highest but after a few minutes in game they seem to switch down to the lowest setting \(even though in the menu it says they're still on high\). I noticed as well with the comfort settings a similar thing happened - I would set it to have no comfort settings but then after booting up the blinkers would be on, even though in the menu it said that they're off. Please can you sort this as soon as is possible as otherwise I love this game so much and i want to be able to finish it on high settings. Thanks. I really wanted to love this game, but with the massive problems it has I just can't.

Pros:

- Okay graphics
- Good gesture controlled swimming
- Interesting puzzles

Cons:

- Swimming controls can sometimes be unresponsive
- Controls are very uncomfortable, they used touchpad to grab things..
- Cutsscenes are in third-person, completely bringing you out of the action and ruining the flow.
- Very short runtime (~50 mins)
- Mediocre story
- Ends suddenly, I literally had no idea the game had ended and thought I accidentally pressed quit, nope, I finished the story.

Overall, the game is good in some aspects but the cons far outweigh the pros. Most of these problems are an easy fix, others are not. I would be giving this game a lot of praise if it was free, but this is not good enough quality for a paid game.
